

HARDING ATTACKS WILSON REGIME

G.O.P. NOMINEE LAUNCHES HIS DRIVE ON TWO FRONTS TODAY

Delegations from Three States Hear Front Porch Speeches

BUSINESS MEN VISITORS

Senator Compares Entrance Into League With Signing Business Contract

By GEORGE R. HOLMES

MARION, O., Sept. 11.—Senator Warren G. Harding launched attacks on the Wilson administration along two fronts today.

Addressing a delegation of nearly 500 Chicago and Indianapolis business men from his front porch this morning, he charged that a "bungling administration which could not even run its own business" has "put its hands on the throat of American business" and all but strangled it with "weird economic theories and Socialistic tendencies." He pledged if elected to let legitimate business alone and run the government on a business-like basis.

In a later speech to a delegation of northern Indiana and Michigan Republicans, Senator Harding asserted that America has narrowly escaped losing her Monroe doctrine "or going to war to preserve it."

He said that America was being deceived about the Monroe doctrine article of the league of nations' covenant. The covenant, he explained, is written in both English and French, in parallel columns. In article XXI, dealing with the doctrine, Senator Harding declared that the English text said one thing and the French another. The French version, and "in case of controversy would subordinate it almost to the point of complete abandonment."

Senator Harding combined the two addresses into a "message to the business men of America" and compared the entrance into the league of nations with signing of a business contract.

"We are the great business nation of the world," he said. "We shall be able to save that business by a fair measure of common sense and we must do it."

"American business is not big business. The big business of America is the little business of America. Willful folly has been in those persons in power over our national affairs who have spoken of American business as if it were large and selfish interest seeking special privileges, and who, on that basis, have put their bungling hands on its throat and tried tinkering and experimenting with it and abusing it. Let's put an end to holding success to be a crime."

"The blow directed at American business, the pulling and hauling by weird economic and social theories, applied by an administration which could not even run its own business, is less menacing to the one-tenth who are business executives than it is to the nine-tenths who are American laborers, and who begin to realize that another year or two of the group who are in 'perfect accord' will mean for American labor a 'no hour day.'"

"Sixty per cent of our manufacturers are little plants. Only 25 per cent

WAR ON PROFITEERING RESTAURANT MEN OPENS

HORSES DEAF AFTER LIGHTNING HITS BARN

MARIETTA, Sept. 11.—Unruly actions on the part of a team of big draft horses belonging to Washington county when they gave no attention to commands and backed clear over the doubletree, led to the discovery this morning that the animals are both stone deaf, as the result of a barn in which they were stabled being struck by a bolt of lightning. The bolt hit the center pole, passed through tons of hay without starting a fire and welded numerous links in the trace chains hanging back of the stalls where the horses were quartered.

MAYOR OF CORK IS NEAR DEATH

LONDON, Sept. 11.—Terence MacSwiney, hunger-striking lord mayor of Cork, suffered a sharp relapse in the event of his sharp relapse in Brixton jail infirmary this afternoon. Annie MacSwiney, a sister, left the jail infirmary at 3:10 o'clock saying that the end was expected momentarily. Miss MacSwiney was weeping and in an excited frame of mind.

Warnings were posted at Brixton jail today imposing a penalty upon any warden who informed outsiders in the event of MacSwiney's death. The government plans to hold up the news until it is officially announced by the home office.

The lord mayor spent a restless night. He slept fitfully and was very weak. MacSwiney made it known to his wife that he would die rather than make any promises to the government that would gain his release.

State Commission Permits Closing of Line Near Mt. Victory

COLUMBUS, Sept. 11.—Authority to shut off its natural gas supply to consumers along a ten-mile pipe line running from Kenyon to Mt. Victory, Hardin county, was given today to the Medina Gas and Fuel company by the state utilities commission.

This action follows in the wake of the commission's warning to the public, that, as a result of the diminishing supply of gas, some Ohio communities will have to resort to use of fuel other than gas.

The Medina company declared that much gas was being lost through leaks in the ten-mile pipe line to Mt. Victory. About 90 consumers, including rural residents, are affected by the commission's ruling, it is said.

Moves to Force Reductions in Food Prices in Columbus and Toledo Are Launched by Authorities.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 11.—Food prices charged in Columbus hotels and restaurants are to be probed by Assistant United States District Attorney Ford.

This promise was made by Attorney Ford today after receiving a communication from Dr. Holston Bartilson, Columbus, alleging that exorbitant prices are being asked.

Dr. Bartilson, a few days ago, resigned as member of the Franklin county fair price commission, as a protest against the commission's authorizing a one-cent boost per quart in local milk prices.

He claimed Columbus restaurant men are charging profits exceeding 1,000 per cent on some articles. At prices charged by restaurants, potatoes sell at nearly $24 a bushel which are selling on market at $2, according to Dr. Bartilson. Sweet corn, costing 20 a dozen, is sold by restaurant men at the rate of $1.20 a dozen, he said, and tomatoes, which retail on market at $3 per bushel, sell at $40.

As evidence tending to support accusations, Dr. Bartilson submitted food purchased at a High street hotel

SPECIAL MEETS ARE PLANNED AT BIG SHED BY BOB JONES

Last Mixed Mass Meeting Will Be Held On Sunday Afternoon

SERVICES FOR WOMEN

Fraternal Orders Accepted Invitations to Evening Services Next Week

By M. K. ZIMMERMAN

There will be something special doing every night at the Sixth street tabernacle next week, but no less interesting will be the afternoon services.

The mixed mass meeting for every person at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon will be the last of that character for some time.

On Sunday, Sept. 19, there will be a meeting for men only and boys over the age of 14 years. "The Sins of Men" is the theme for this sermon.

Next Friday night, the service will be for women only, when Bob Jones will deliver his widely known sermon on "The Modern Woman."

Fraternal orders have accepted invitations to attend the evening services during next week. The first of these will be present Monday night when the Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges of East Liverpool, Chester and Newell will form a delegation.

BOB JONES' BLOWS AGAINST SATANIC ARMY

"There is nothing in the Bible that you can't read to a mixed audience."

"There are a lot of people who would like to talk, but the devil says: 'Don't do it, I'll tell on you.' 'Trust your soul to God, and your bank account is safe.' 'No nation has a right to live that does not treat God right. 'I'm not carryin' any revival around in my pocket. 'No man ever got above temptation—Jesus Christ didn't."

The high schools of these same places will also be there Monday night. High school yells will be given lead by the cheer leaders.

Expenses of the campaign are being gradually wiped out. Collections for the first week totaled between $2,000 and $3,000. When the expense budget has been met, no more collections will be lifted in the tabernacle, except on the last Sunday, at which time the collection will be given to Bob.

Reports heard at the Friday afternoon meeting concerning the cottage prayer meetings, which are held every morning from 10 to 10:30 o'clock, show an increased attendance. There were 19 women at one meeting Friday morning and others reported from 10 upward.

Bob Jones said Friday night that finders of lost articles should give them to big Don Hindman, the song book distributor, who will hold all such articles until their owners make inquiry for them. Announcement will be made in this newspaper of articles found for which no claim has been made.

Shop meetings are proving a success. They are under the direction of Tom P. Ullom. In all these gatherings deep interest is being shown in the messages of the leader.

There will be no morning service in the tabernacle Sunday. "I want you all to go to church Sunday morning," said Bob Friday night. "Take sons or daughter by the hand and go to Sunday school. Then you go to

V. A. SCHREIBER DEMANDS VICE CLEAN-UP IN TOLEDO

Former East Liverpool Mayor Declares Toledo Officials Are Playing to Galleries in Offering Him Police Job.

TOLEDO, Sept. 11.—Removal of restrictions from the police department, so that "the cesspool of crime and vice in Toledo will be cleared up" to the satisfaction of the public, was demanded today in a statement by V. A. Schreiber, local Anti-Saloon League head. The statement was a hot reply to the offer of Chris Wall, safety director, to make Schreiber a policeman for the purpose of controlling the vice situation.

Schreiber declined to accept Wall's proposition.

"Both Cornell Schreiber and Director Wall are insincere," Schreiber declared. "The mayor, after his usual style of camouflage and playing to the galleries, says 'bring on your evidence.'"

"If the mayor will read the files of Toledo newspapers for the last year he will discover a trail of crime that is a disgrace to any community. Let the mayor take the halters off the police force and the policemen will produce all the evidence he needs."

V. A. Schreiber, referred to in the foregoing dispatch, was formerly mayor of East Liverpool.

NURSES' DUTY HOURS CHANGED

Hospital hours will be from 7 a. m. until 9 p. m. with two hours' recreation during the afternoon. There will be no change in nursing fees.

Change in the nursing hours was voted at a meeting of the East Liverpool City Hospital association in this week. Ten graduate nurses in this city are members of the association.

PARIS, Sept. 11.—"Heavy fighting between the Russians and Poles continues southeast of Grodno, east of Brest-Litovsk and in the direction of Vladimir-Volynski," said a soviet war office communique wirelessly from Moscow today.

"We are attempting to drive back the Poles who crossed to the right bank of the western Bug river. We have captured additional prisoners and guns in the sector of Lemberg. There is local fighting in the region of Rohatyn."

WANTED MONEY, RAISED IT; SEEKS STRANGER

COLUMBUS, Sept. 11.—James Cahoon was in a soft drink saloon. What is more, Jimmy wanted some money awfully bad.

The police have been asked to help locate the bank book—also, the stranger.

MAN SLAIN IN RUNNING FIGHT

George Koches, Elyria Farmer, Shot After Round-house Quarrel

ELYRIA, Ohio, Sept. 11.—George Kochis, 50, a farm hand, is dead today following a running battle with Sheriff M. D. Backus and Chief Deputy F. F. Cowie. Kochis, said to have been crazed by drink, fired several shots after he had been wounded, and then fought with the two officers, dislocating their right wrists.

The trouble started early this morning in a roadside run by two women near here. Kochis had been playing cards and losing. He went after a shotgun and fired at the others in the place, the bullet grazing the arm of James Farrell, of Cleveland.

He continued to fire at those present, numbered among whom were five women.

When the sheriff and his deputies arrived Kochis was still keeping up a barrage with his weapon. He escaped from the house through a rear door, followed by the officers.

Backus dropped him with a bullet through his right leg, but Kochis struggled to his feet again and reached for his gun, another bullet struck him in the right side.

Although fatally wounded, he struggled to his feet again and in a hand to hand encounter with Backus and Cowie dislocated the right wrist of both before he was subdued.

He died on his way to the hospital.

STORMY CONFERENCE ON ITALIAN PROBLEM

MILAN, Sept. 11.—A stormy conference of Socialist deputies and leaders of the General Confederation of Labor on the Italian industrial revolution continued throughout the night. There were indications that the extremists, who seek to put industry under the control of soviets throughout Italy, were in the minority at the meeting.

GERMANY FACES BLACK WINTER

Fear Food and Labor Disturbances — 4,500,000 Workmen Idle

BERLIN, Sept. 11.—With 4,500,000 of her workmen idle Germany faces a black winter. Last winter the country was menaced by political riots; the nation is threatened the coming winter with food and labor disturbances. The chief danger comes from unemployment and the empty dinner pail.

Only the railroaders and the coal miners are working to full capacity. Idleness in other branches of industry is increasing daily with the companies laying off large numbers of men.

The minister of labor announced today that 50,000,000 marks will be appropriated to assist the unemployed. This is in addition to 13,000,000 marks already spent for that purpose.

A law is being drafted to enable government commissions to operate idle factories, where it is possible to do so.

OLIVE THOMAS' SUDDEN DEATH ACCIDENTAL, IS POLICE CLAIM

Pretty American Motion Picture Actress Did Not Commit Suicide

INVESTIGATION IS MADE

Jack Pickford Denies Disagreement with Young Wife

BULLETIN

PARIS, Sept. 11.—The judicial authorities tonight ordered the body of Miss Olive Thomas, American motion picture actress and sister-in-law of Mary Pickford, deposited in the morgue for an autopsy on Monday to determine the exact character and amount of poison which caused her death in the American hospital at Neuilly yesterday.

The Thomas case took this sensational turn after apparently having been closed.

PARIS, Sept. 11.—The death of Miss Olive Thomas, beautiful young American motion picture actress, who died in the American hospital at Neuilly from bichloride of mercury poisoning was accidental, it was announced today by Police Commissioner Catrou, who conducted an official investigation.

M. Catrou said he would make a report to the judicial authorities to show that Miss Thomas was the victim of an accident and that she had not intentionally committed suicide.

The investigation was conducted with great speed and the police official said at noon that it was virtually completed.

He examined employees of the Ritz hotel where Miss Thomas was living, doctors who attended the American girls, and the husband, Jack Pickford, brother of Mary Pickford.

The body of Miss Thomas will not be exposed to the view even to her friends. The face was horribly contracted by pain and badly splattered by the deadly poison.

Pickford protested against reports that there had been a disagreement between his wife and himself. He branded them as untrue.

Testifying at the inquiry the young husband said he returned to the Ritz hotel at 3:20 o'clock Sunday morning after spending night dancing at Montmartre resorts with his wife. He declared that both his wife and himself were sober.

"I went to bed and my wife entered the bath room," continued Pickford. "She took a bottle from a large number on the table and drank from it. Then she threw the bottle upon the floor in alarm and called for help. I jumped from the bed and ran into the bath room where my wife was standing in the middle of the floor and the broken bottle was lying at her feet. I saw that she had taken bichloride of mercury and I tried every antidote that was available. I called in the hotel employees and sent for four doc-

BEGIN SEARCH FOR THIEVES

Police on Trail of Gang Responsible for Pottery Raids

Search is being made for a gang of thieves believed to be responsible for the disappearance of valuable brass fixtures and parts of machinery from the engine rooms and slip house of River Road potteries.

The C. C. Thompson pottery was entered this week and a quantity of brass and other metal parts taken. The night watchman, on his regular rounds, was attracted by the sweep of an electric flashlight in the engine room and put the thieves to flight.

A sack filled with parts that had been removed from the machinery was recovered in the engine room.

The Thompson pottery was robbed a few weeks ago, while several upriver plants have been visited within the past few weeks. Custom of East Liverpool junk dealers in buying the fixtures without inquiry and spiriting them away is baffling efforts of the pottery manufacturers to recover the stolen loot, it is declared.

POTTERY NEWS

GEO. B. FOWLER RESIGNS POST

T. M. Knowles China Co. Salesman Goes to Carrollton.

George B. Fowler, for the last nine years salesman for the E. M. Knowles China Co., has resigned, effective Sept. 15, to go with the Carrollton Pottery Co., as salesman and office assistant to Roy B. Henderson in the management of that plant.

Mr. Fowler first started in the pottery business at the Colonial when that plant was under the management of the late Henry P. Knoblock. He remained there a number of years, and while with the Colonial he received his first selling experience. He left the Colonial and went with the Tremble China Co., where he remained almost six years. He then joined the sales department of the Edwin M. Knowles China Co., and has been with this firm nearly nine years.

Mr. Fowler has an exceptionally large acquaintance among buyers throughout the United States. He possesses that happy faculty of winning friends and then retaining that friendship. He will likely give up his residence in the East End and remove his family to Carrollton.

"I'll get me a little flivver and come over often," said Mr. Fowler, "for no one can ever forget the old town."

Scio Plant Ready Jan. 1

The plant of the Scio, (O.) China Co., will not likely be ready for operation before the year end. It has been impossible for contractors to obtain labor. Here and there about the countryside, for miles around Scio, signs have been placed telling that "help is wanted" at the new pottery.

W. T. McNutt of East Liverpool, who is at the head of this organization, is of the opinion that the making of ware will begin either late in December or early in January. Three kilns are about ready to be topped out. Only five kilns are to be used when the plant is first placed in operation, construction of the other four to be continued later.

"Shortage of labor is the only thing that is holding up construction," says Mr. McNutt. "Materials are in pretty good shape, but they are no good if they cannot be put together."

Crooksville Pottery Busy

Mr. Bennett, salesman for the Crooksville China Co., was in the district Friday being registered at the Elks Club. "Just dropped in to see the boys and to learn about anything new that is happening," he said. The Crooksville plant is busy, but like the other generalware plants it is always experiencing this or that difficulty.

Cecil Taylor at Home Office

Cecil E. Taylor, of Philadelphia, salesman for the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Pottery Co., is spending a season at the home office, it being his first visit here in several months. He is registered at the Elks' Club.

Buyers in Market

Among buyers who have been in the market the last few days are:

Mortimer Swartz, with the Golden Rule Co., St. Paul, Minn.

Joseph E. Irwin, with Boggs & Buhl, Pittsburg, Pa.

Mr. Nutting, with the St. Louis Glass & Queensware Co., St. Louis.

Carl Puttman, New York.

The Synopsis of the Story of "The Forbidden Woman"

A thrilling tale involving Diane H. Borel, a celebrated young French artist, whose beauty and charm have brought her countless admirers; with whom she flirts and coquettes to her heart's content. But to whom she gives but smiles. She is light-hearted, flirtatious, but her smiles and pretty speeches have no deeper meaning. She is exquisitely beautiful, with a magnetic, appealing charm which draws all men toward her just as naturally as a flower attracts by its perfume, but with all the sweetness and charm of the truly gentlemanly nature beneath. A bewitching coquette whose heart has never been touched. Into the radiance of this life, always the center of admiring group, comes admirer after admirer in quest of her love. Men, jealous, emotional, ardent, fall prey to their own fancies. One, Andre de Clermont, seeks the fulfillment of his unhappy heart in the great unknown. Then comes the hateful formalities of the law through which Diane escapes blameless and unstained in character, but the notoriety of it all draws near to the careless heart and nearly crushes her. Fleeing in dread from the old surroundings, she seeks a refuge in America, where after rest and the quiet charm of the country, she plans on once more appearing in the public light.

Once more Fate steps lightly at her threshold, but this time it is one of the great out-of-doors, Malcolm Kent an author, who lives with his books, his pipe and his dog as companions, and holds as his pet aversion—the modern woman. The story of these two thrown so strangely into one another's paths, their adventures into the Land of Romance, the inevitable rifts and misunderstandings that cause the real crisis in life, the final test for both and the happy ending at the End of the Rainbow, all forms a story that dives deep into the heart of every woman—and starts them talking and thinking. To be shown at the American three days, starting on Monday.

MISSING HEIRESS

father of Miss Louisa Fletcher, who was found working as a servant on a farm near Ipswich, Mass. after having been missing since Thursday, was overjoyed when he received first information of her discovery through International News Service.

"Found! Where?" he exclaimed when informed that she had been found.

"I am ever so much obliged," was all Mr. Fletcher could say when the International News Service dispatch was read to him and depression he has manifested over her disappearance, was lifted.

Later when additional details were conveyed to Mr. Fletcher, he stated he had just received a telephone message from the girl's tutor, Miss Fritz, stating that Mr. Fletcher had arrived in East Gloucester, to take charge of the runaway girl, Mrs. Fletcher sped from Indianapolis to the cost town when word first arrived that Miss Fletcher had disappeared.

Mrs. Fletcher will remain in the east until she has Louisa in hand," said Mr. Fletcher. "It looks like a spanking case to me," he added.

SPECIAL MEETS

AT BIG SHED

church yourself with your children and family. Come here in the afternoon and in the evening, as there will be no services in the churches Sunday evening."

Sunday school services which are held from 3 to 4 o'clock at Forest Grove Chapel, Lincoln Highway every Sunday afternoon, have been discontinued until the close of the campaign. This is the first township Sunday school to take such action.

The Evangelist will finish his series of three sermons Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock on the subject of "The Holy Spirit."

Commencing Tuesday afternoon the sermon themes for an indefinite period will be taken from John 1. These sermons will show the divinity, humanity and office of Jesus Christ. In the 51 verses of this chapter the whole spirit of the revival campaign is brought out.

It was one big happy family that almost filled the big shed Friday night when Bob Jones delivered a personal message to church men, also to church women. A spade was called a spade. He took his text from St. Luke 1:9. He preceded the sermon by reading the first ten verses of this chapter.

In part the Evangelist said: "Salvation is a fact in the multiplied lives of thousands of men," declared the minister. "The religion of the Bible is different than any other religion in the world. The religion of the Bible says: 'live and do.'"

"There are three classes of hypocrites. First: a hypocrite is a man who claims to be something and is not that thing. He may be one of those cheap politicians who goes to church for the purpose of getting the votes. I like to know men who know what they can be. Jesus will then open His arms and take him in."

"There is another class of hypocrite who is known as the moral man. Morality is better than immorality. There are lots of self satisfied and self sufficient men. Lots of 'em. Some men deserve more credit for being sober for twenty-four hours than some men do for being sober all their lives. "There's the man with venturesome blood in his veins. It is better not to gamble than to gamble. It is better to live a clean moral life than an immoral life. Christ gives you a positive goodness the same as He gives you a negative goodness."

"Zachaeus was the ring leader of the worst bunch of crooks and grafters in his town. Jesus Christ walked down the streets of Jericho, and old Zachaeus wanted to see him. The crowd was big. Zachaeus was small, he was rich. But he wanted to see Jesus. Then what did he do. He ran ahead of the crowd and climbed into a tree. He couldn't fool Jesus, not Zachaeus, even if he was a ring leader. Jesus bid him to come down, and said to him that he wanted to go to his house. Then the crowd was amazed. They knew what kind of a sinner Zachaeus was, but Jesus was received joyfully. That bunch that Zachaeus was the leader of couldn't stop their leader from going with Jesus."

"There are a dozen men tonight in East Liverpool, who, if they came to Christ they could clean out the bunch and lead them to Christ. I can tell you of three men in a southern town I know of who turned it over to God. Zachaeus was a hard case at the head of a bunch of crooks. "There is no sin making money, not at all. It's not money that is the root of evil, it's the use to which it is put. I want to tell you that when men love money more than they do anything else they are walking on mighty dangerous ground. There's no sin in having money. Listen! when you are making money you had better watch out or the devil will get it."

NOTICE I. O. O. F.
Iris Penova, Clark, Chester, Line Island and No. 379: You are invited to attend the Bob Jones services on Monday, September 13, meet at the lodge rooms of No. 379 at 7:00 P. M. sharp. Please come.

Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy in Michigan

Mrs. A. H. Hall, Caseville, Mich., says: "I wish to thank you for your grand good medicine, Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. We are never without it in the house, and I am sure it saved our baby's life this summer. Mrs. Mary Carrington, Caseville, Mich., says: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy for years and it has always given prompt relief."

SHOP SERVICES ARE ARRANGED

Meetings for Next Week Announced by Bob Jones Workers.

Ullom and Don Cochran, while the other will be headed by Loren Jones and Don Hindman. The schedule of shop meetings for next week, which will begin at 12:20 p. m., and close promptly at 12:50 p. m. follows:

Pottery Co-Operative Co.
Tuesday:
R. Thomas & Sons Co.

Thursday:

Friday:

"I refuse to vote for a dirty political crook when I can vote for a clean Christian gentleman. (Applause) There are some men today who would vote for anybody for the head of any ticket no matter what their character may be. They don't look for character in politics any more."

"There are lots of clean men who go into politics and come out dirty. Some of you here tonight know that to be a fact. You went into office wearing a clean shirt and when you got kicked out your shirt was soiled."

"Some people are poor because they are crooked. I've known parents, and you know them as I do, who tell their children they have no money for this, or have no money for that, until their children are driven out of your homes with their heads down."

"There are some boys who spend daddy's money and never make an effort to make any for themselves. Fathers! send your boys and girls out into the world with their faces turned toward God."

"I never saw a man so mean but what I could find something good about him. If you can't find something good in an enemy of yours, then you ain't worth very much. If you ain't got no enemies, then you never did nothing, and you ought to be ashamed of yourself."

"I'd rather pay for some damage to some one's property than to pay my own funeral expenses. You've got to get the drum before you drum a fellow out of town."

"Zachaeus was a man of strong will power. He walked down the streets to see and he said that he came to see or die. Some of you folks come or go to see, and if you see a crowd you then turn your faces and then walk away. I like a fellow who puts into a thing and then does it. If I was in hell I'd stick to the devil. I like a man who says I want to be on the side or right and then see him stick on that side. All hell can't move a man with that kind of stability."

"A lizard is colored by its surroundings. A lot of you men are all right, seemingly, when you stick around the old home town and go to church, but Lord, watch you when you go to Pittsburgh or some other big town. You say 'they don't know me here; folks back home won't know what I'm doing.' Maybe—

"This country needs heroes of the cross. Your star of success will set in disgrace if you don't have stickability. If this bunch of men here tonight were consecrated to God, my! what a town this would be. "The ring leader of the worst bunch in a wicked city gave half of what he had away to Jesus Christ. That was the kind of man Zachaeus was. "Anything that makes me sick is to hear people say they are holding their own. I'd be ashamed to be the man who brag about the money he made from the time the great war started until it ended while men died on the field of battle. You've seen the time when you held your own. You've seen the time when you held that baby to the car window to kiss daddy good bye and baby has never seen daddy again. You've seen the time when you fathers put your arms around your son's neck and held your own, but you can't do that tonight. You've seen the time when that message came back to you telling you that son had been killed in battle. "And you hear some men say they are holding their own. Bah! Such men should hide their faces in shame. "Let me tell you something: Of all the towns and cities I have preached in in 26 states of this Union, the preachers of East Liverpool are paid the poorest salaries. Then you talk about holding your own. Then you men who drop a dollar or two in the church basket occasionally wonder why the church don't prosper. I'd be ashamed to do under grace what the old Jew did under the law, who gave his one-tenth to the Lord. "It's a wonderful thing to be in business with God. It pays to do business with Him. I know people and so do you who ought to suffer because they are so stingy. If the men who marched in here tonight would treat God square, you wouldn't know what to do with your money. Pay your debts if you want to save your soul, but if you save your soul you'll pay your debts. That's Christian honesty. Hell is full of thieves. You can't prop up a shameful life on an honest God."

Friday Afternoon Sermon.
"God Will Take Care of You" was the first song sung at the Friday afternoon meeting. The attendance was much larger than at any of the three previous meetings. Following the singing of hymn No. 10, "Wonderful Mercy," the invocation was pronounced by the Rev. Jesse Wyeth of the First Methodist Episcopal church.

TWO-DAY SCHEDULE OF TABERNACLE MEETS

Sunday
9:30 a. m.—Sunday school in all churches.
10:45 a. m.—Preaching in all churches.
3:00 p. m.—Mass meeting for everybody in Tabernacle—Bob Jones.
7:00 p. m.—Personal Workers, M. P. church, Mr. Ullom.
7:30 p. m.—Song service—Loren Jones, Tabernacle.
8:00 p. m.—Sermon, Bob Jones, Tabernacle.
Monday
9:00 a. m.—Party conference.
12:20—Shop meetings.
7:30 p. m.—Song service, Tabernacle, Loren Jones.
8:00 p. m.—Sermon, Bob Jones, Tabernacle.

"We're going to have a great 'home coming' for church people next Sunday afternoon, and it's going to be a great time," said Bob Jones as a preliminary announcement. "Want you all to go to Sunday school and church next Sunday morning. Sunday afternoon the meeting will start at three o'clock and will be for men, women and children."

"This will be our last general mass meeting on Sunday afternoons. We've got a special program for the other afternoons."

Then he lost no time in starting his sermon after a solo had been sung by Lorah Jones, who sang No. 163, "Pentecostal Power."

"This is a great democratic meeting," started off Bob Jones who continued the second of a series of three sermons from the theme of "The Holy Spirit." Eighty per cent of the people who have given God their hearts in meetings where I have been preaching have been led by the efforts of personal workers. This is no religious dissipation. This is not the time to prepare for shouting.

"While Jesus is up yonder, the Holy Spirit is down here. We can never convert people who have not first been converted by the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit regenerates us—revives us."

"The desire for sin is never overcome until our whole soul is filled to the brim with the Holy Spirit. There is the sick soul, there is the sick heart, then what do we do? Send for the Great Physician to be born again. You know how wonderful it is to be born again. Unless a man be born again he cannot enter the kingdom of heaven."

"Now here's another thing I want to tell you about: The Bible is the most wonderful book I know of. Listen! It never tells you about a blessing without telling you how to obtain that blessing; it never tells you about mercy, without showing you how to obtain that mercy; it never tells you about being born again without telling you how you can be born again. It is by receiving the Son of God that men are born again."

"Read John 6:63: 'It's the spirit that quickens life.' Then pass over to II. Corinthians 3:16 and read, 'Nevertheless when it shall turn to the Lord, the veil shall be taken away.'"

"You talk and read about the wreck of the tornado and the storm, when the great Spirit of Regeneration takes place in your soul, you'll say something like this: 'The world has got the idea into its head that the idea of righteousness is the doing of the right thing. That's only a small beginning. You know a horse can lead you; a dog is the most affectionate animal on earth; a man may give money to the poor, he may treat his family right, and a lot of more things and then still be unsaved. "Salvation comes from the Holy Ghost. Unless you touch him and He touches you, you are unsaved."

"When God saves men the Holy Spirit then takes man and puts a seal upon him. You put a bale of cotton in a warehouse and the first thing that is done to it is to put a seal on it. "This is not your home, your country, your home is up yonder. Our citizenship isn't here, and, by the way, you folks here had better take care of how you treat God's property. If you are one of God's family you carry his mark. You see the truth, you hear the truth, but unless you are sealed you are not saved. There is no genuine truth produced by a false gospel."

"You go into a strange town and walk down the street. You hear some one remark, 'Who is that guy?' "You saved man; you walk down the street in a strange town, and you'll hear God say 'That's my man.' "The Holy Spirit indwells every Christian. It's one thing for the Holy Spirit to be in you, and another thing for the Holy Spirit to have you, and another for you to hand your reigns over to Him and say here's my life. "It's all right to worship in fine churches and fine cathedrals but it is all wrong for them to be desecrated. When the door of the human heart is open, the Holy Spirit walks in. See what John 14:17 says: 'Even the spirit of truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him; but ye know him; for He dwelleth with you, and shall be in you.'"

HONOR MEDALS FOR VETERANS

American Legion Will Handle Distribution In East Liverpool.

Through a special arrangement with the U. S. army officials at Cleveland, the East Liverpool post of the American Legion will handle the distribution of Victory Medals to East Liverpool World War veterans, it was announced Saturday from American Legion headquarters here.

Officials of East Liverpool Post No. 4, American Legion, will be at the new post club rooms in the Owen building on Washington street just north of the First National bank building Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week from 7 to 8 o'clock to fill out applications for Victory Medals.

Local ex-service men, regardless of whether they are affiliated with the American Legion, are requested to appear before the American Legion board on any of the three nights and to bring their honorable discharge papers with them. Application blanks for both commissioned officers and men in the ranks have been received from the war department at Washington to be used in handling the distribution of the medals.

Honorable discharges of all applicants for medals must be left in the hands of the American Legion officers here but will not leave the custody of the local officials. Through a special arrangement, a party of army officers from Cleveland will maintain temporary headquarters in Lisbon next week to handle the applications for medals in Columbiana county.

government must yield to the sound practice of the republic.

"American business has suffered staggering blows because of too much meddling by government, and it is equally true that good government has almost died on our hands because it has not utilized the first sound principles of American business."

"The government has engaged in prodigal waste. It has engaged in all kinds of costly bungling experiments of government management and ownership of enterprises. The American people say: "Democracy has done nothing in eight years to cure waste and inefficiency; it has rather added to them. We are ineffective prodigals of the world."

Turning to the Monroe doctrine and the league of nations, Senator Harding said that the original draft of the covenant made no mention of the doctrine. When President Wilson returned from Paris on his first trip, Senator Harding declared he found America very strongly reversed the doctrine.

"So when the president returned to Paris," said Senator Harding, "he made of pretended to make a concession to the reverence of the American people in connection with article XXI. In the English text the exact words are as follows: "Nothing in this covenant shall be deemed to affect the validity of international engagements, such as treaties of arbitration or regional understandings like the Monroe doctrine, for securing the maintenance of peace."

Senator Harding then quoted the French text in French, the translation of which, he said, is: "International engagements such as treaties of arbitration and regional understandings like the Monroe doctrine, which assure the maintenance of peace, are not considered as incompatible with any of the provisions of the present pact."

"No one can fail to perceive," he continued, "that one text is the complete reversal of the other."

Inevitably, the senator said, some controversy involving the doctrine would have soon arisen, and faced with this ambiguity and conflict, America would have had to acquiesce in the demolition of her cherished doctrine or go to war to sustain it.

"One cannot help but wonder whether the whole thing was a trap to destroy the good American doctrine of Monroe."

"It is hard to believe that this marked discrepancy was perpetrated without intention. "I do not believe the president would have knowingly been a party to the deception of his own country, and I will assume to say that the commissioners of other lands have deliberately meant to dupe us, but there is manifest misunderstanding at the very beginning which would have to be clarified before any prudent business man would sign."

A Chicago delegation was one of the largest that has come to Marion. It was headed by William N. Pelouze, president of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association and contained many well known Chicago business men. They came prepared with some new campaign songs and they whooped up things considerably around the quick front porch.

"These Chicago business men," said Pelouze in introducing the gathering, "have journeyed to Marion on two special trains to greet the next president of the United States."

Pelouze charged the administration with the "disturb and anxiety in which American business now finds itself."

At Washington, he said, they had looked too long toward the east and not enough toward American needs at home.

After the speech, the Senator and Mrs. Harding shook hands with all the callers.

The county normal school now has an enrollment of seventeen, sixteen girls and one boy. County Superintendent J. W. Moore, who assists in the instruction states, the enrollment should be at least thirty students in order to supply the normal demand for teachers in the county. This year emergency and short-term certificates have been issued to a number of persons in order to fill teaching positions. A week ago the rural schools were supplied with teachers, but now there are a number of vacancies due to the fact that many who had agreed to teach have accepted more lucrative positions in the village or city schools.

$5,000 UNPAID IN WATER TAX

State Examiner's Report Shows Big Delinquent List In Wellsville

As a result of an examination made by state auditors of the books of the water works department here it was discovered that approximately $5,000 unpaid water tax is listed.

The state examiners from Columbus today completed the auditing of the books of the department here, announcing the result of their examination to City Auditor John McQueen.

Drastic measures will be adopted hereafter, stated Mayor Ingram today when apprised of the result of the examination, to insure the payment of all water taxes. Service Director John Caldwell will be authorized to shut off all water being used by consumers who fail to pay their bills.

Several months ago similar orders were issued by city officials when it was found that many city water consumers were in arrears. At the time many of the accounts were settled. Since then, said Mayor Ingram, customers of the city have grown lax, with the result that the extraordinary large amount remains unpaid on the city books.

TWENTIETH CENTURY C. OF C. TO MEET SOON

The wharf committee of the chamber of commerce will hold its first meeting in the commerce rooms within the next few days. It was announced today.

The organization of the wharf committee followed the receipt of instructions by Secretary R. W. Barbour of the chamber from the Ohio River and Ship Canal association urging the chamber to co-operate in the stimulation of trade by water.

Definite steps along this line were taken at the last meeting of council when the chamber of commerce, in a communication, urged action toward the establishment of a wharf site along the river front from Second street to Sixth street.

It was stated that had the city possessed adequate shipping and docking facilities the American Sheet and Tin Plate plant would have been able to operate without interruptions such as occurred during the past few months on account of the railroad tieup. It is claimed that the mill could have obtained coal and raw materials by water if a good docking place had been available.

Council has a wharf committee in operation and an investigation will likely be made before the next session as a result of the suggestion by the chamber.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Members of the Twentieth Century club met in an adjourned session yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. G. Whitacre in Highland avenue.

On Friday afternoon, October 1, Mrs. Robert Ustick, president of the organization, will be hostess at the first meeting of the fall season at her home in Main street. President's day program will feature the meeting.

Loyal Temperance Legion Meeting. Members of the Loyal Temperance Legion met last evening in the Fourteenth street Mission.

One new member was voted in during the business session, making a total membership of sixty, thirty being enrolled this year. Arrangements were completed for the ninth annual outing of the Legion which will be held Saturday, September 25, at Thompson park, East Liverpool.

CHICAGOAN IS JAILED HERE

Lubor Sykora Charged With Obtaining Goods Under False Pretenses.

Charged with obtaining goods under false pretense, Lubor Sykora, claiming to represent a Chicago electrical supply house, is being held in the city jail here awaiting transfer to Lisbon.

Sykora was held $500 bond for the grand jury when he pleaded not guilty to the charge before Mayor J. S. Wilson Friday night.

Two years ago Sykora removed a part of an electrical resonator in the office of Dr. Jean A. Sloan, Jackson street, for the purpose of having it repaired or replaced. It is alleged he secured an advance payment on the part and left. A year ago he returned here and was recognized by Dr. Sloan but escaped before police could locate him.

Dr. Sloan met him face to face on the street Friday afternoon and notified police headquarters. Chief of Police Hugh McDermott arrested him at the corner of Fifth and Monroe streets at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon after an exciting chase. With Sykora's arrest police learned he had received a check for $8 from Dr. J. D. Baum, East Sixth street osteopath, as an advance payment on an electrical part Friday afternoon.

SQUARE LAWYERS.

One of the bright spots in the Ponzi mess is the conduct of Ponzi's lawyers. From the retaining fees they charged, it may be assumed that they are successful lawyers with a large practice. Those fees were $25,000 apiece. They doubtless expected to get more before they were through. From the size of the business involved, and the intricate nature of the work thrust upon them, most attorneys would probably say that these fees were not excessive.

Well, when these "corporation lawyers" met with the receivers to start untangling the affair, the first thing they did was to turn over their $50,000 and ask the receivers to put it in the pot to help pay Ponzi's creditors. When they took the fees, they explained, they thought Ponzi was solvent, and a millionaire. When they found that he could not meet his obligations, and thousands of creditors were going to lose, they volunteered to lighten the loss as much as they could by doing their own work for nothing.

Their names, it may be added, are Daniel H. Coakley and Daniel McIsaac. Their action speaks eloquently for a profession which is often criticised and seldom praised. It is a reminder that the bar as a whole is too often judged by sharp practice which is the exception, not the rule.

If all the truth were told, it would doubtless appear that these two Boston attorneys themselves are not exceptions to wonder at. There is many a deed of unselfish service and high honor done by lawyers that never comes to the light. The bad ones get the publicity. Here is a bit of unsought publicity for the good ones.

POSTAL BANKING.

Eugene Meyer, former managing director of the War Finance Corporation, urges an enlargement and extension of the postal savings system. At the present time, he reports, after several years' opportunity, only 656,000 persons in the United States, or one-half of one per cent of the population, have government savings deposits. Surely this fine banking institution is worthy of more than a Volstead percentage.

The total savings, too, are absurdly low, when the population and the wealth of the country are considered. On June 30, 1919, when there were 612,000 depositors, the deposits were only $176,000,000. More than that, according to Mr. Meyer, is thrown away every year on swindling promotion schemes. And if it is true that $8,000,000,000 a year is spent on luxuries, a billion a billion or so might be taken out of that sum and put into the postal savings bank, with advantage to the depositors and the nation.

One trouble is that the postal savings have not been pushed lately. They were largely sidetracked during the war and afterward, in favor of war savings stamps, and have often been confused with them. Another trouble is the small number of post-offices where such savings are accepted. Only 6,500 offices handle them. Dr. Meyer would extend the system to the whole 555,000 postoffices, branches and sub-stations. A third difficulty is the small rate of interest paid—only 2 per cent on the postal savings "certificates," which can be had in denominations up to $100, and 2 1/2 per cent on postal savings "bonds," issued in denominations of $20, $100 and $500. It has been suggested that the government might well increase this interest to as high a rate as is paid on regular government bonds, and utilize the money thereby obtained instead of paying a still higher rate every while for emergency loans.

WHY MEN EMBEZZLE.

A magazine writer who has been investigating the facts of embezzlement reports that there is an appalling amount of that sort of crime. In digging into the reasons why men steal, he adduces these:

In the first place, the "good old" melodramatic reasons still hold. To some extent men do embezzle funds because their wives, sisters or mothers have tuberculosis or there is a mortgage about to be foreclosed. That is to say, the human emergency is always with us as the strongest of motives. To a certain extent these crimes are—not excusable, of course—but recommended to mercy. There is hope for this type of man if he is caught in time and given a chance to redeem himself.

Then, of course, there is the underpaid bank employee who handles money in such quantities as to make him feel that others consider it of little value, while he is in constant need of money. This man, too, may be saved. The dreaded bank examiner is often enough a friend in need.

But an extraordinary number of the embezzling crimes are committed by men who want the money to "put on dog." They are imbued by false standards of what kind of life is worth living. They start the speculation because they want money for luxuries which they cannot afford, and they continue it, hoping to recoup by a lucky turn at stocks. Needless to say, they never recoup.

Nothing can save the man or woman who gets a good start along this line. The taste for easy luxury becomes part of the person. The jail sentence which follows does nothing to give these people a constructive attitude toward society.

But much can be done by an enlightened public opinion to prevent the bringing up of young people to believe that luxury is a vital part of life, that pretending to be something you are not or to own something you don't is of any lasting satisfaction. Half the mental energy used by the embezzler in a vain effort to cover up his tracks, if put into useful thinking, would in most cases give him a solid earning power equal to the one he shams.

Time to houseclean the voting booths and put up some curtains.

NEW YORK LETTER

By O. O. McINTYRE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys: Up betimes. R. Rohn the artist, inviting himself to breakfast of which I was proud and made great shift to please him. Had a pleasant walk and stopped to see my horologist and am about persuaded to wear a watch about my wrist.

A letter came by post from my father who promises to visit me shortly from the west and we are to see the Frenchman Carpenter box. My wife pettish about the condition of my speech. In truth I did say before strangers "I done" but it was a mere slip of the tongue which worries me not a whit.

Through the town on the omnibus and the conductor carried me past my station with mean intent I thought and we had high words, saying to him things for which I was sorry all the day. To the Algonquin for luncheon and I did see Miss Theda Bara, the cinema play actress, and Mr. Hope, the English artist.

I bought Joyce Kilmer's poem to a tree on parliament and in a frame, it being the finest thing ever I read. About the town is cried mightily that prices are coming down which I hope is true.

In the evening with E. Carroll and Mistress Marcelle to see Earl's new play, a fyne piece, and we sat in a box. Later we walked to the Astor for frozen cream and W. Hogg, of Texas, the governor's son, and Dr. Dorsey joined us. Then home and so to bed.

Broadway cafeterias are resorting to snappy, slangy posters to entice patrons. It is a new technique for popularizing food and at least it is amusing. A brilliantly lettered sign in one window reads: "Try Our Wicked Bread and Our Mean Rolls."

New York has said good-bye to the fire horse. The last three were taken to pastures last week. In Manhattan streets the fire horse was the last symbol of breathless adventure. To see, from the top of a bus, the engines swinging up Fifth avenue had more of a thrill than a movie thriller. One crisp morning three years ago the early pedestrians saw horses three abreast two rows deep turn into Fifth avenue from Fifty-seventh street. A lead horse stumbled. All went down and slid on the smooth icy streets for a block, then arose miraculously and were off like a flash. Such a thing could never happen on the screen.

Park Row reporters who stood white face but unflinching at the electrocutions of Becker, Gyp the Blood, Lefty Louis and a score of other Death House scenes that made strong men quail admit that the last one they witnessed was too much. Two hardened scribblers actually swooned after it was all over. Peg Leg Kelly, a ganster, hopped into the room through the green door on one leg. He was smoking a cigar. "It is hard work on one foot," he smiled. "You'll have to give me a little time, Cap." When he reached the chair, he threw down his cigar and said, "I am ready!" A few moments later he was pronounced dead. The smoke still curled upward from the cigar on the floor. It was left to die a natural death. There was not a man in the room who did not leave with a firm resolve to fight for the abolishment of capital punishment.

With the first tang of fall weather—folk are rushing back to town. The chestnut venders are out in Union Square, Caruso has taken possession of his new quarters—an entire floor at the Vanderbilt. Road companies are starting out on the burlesque circuit. These things signify the same idea that burning leaves do in the small towns. Winter will soon be here.

CLASS YELLS AT TABERNACLE

"Frenchy" Gessford to Lead High Students in Cheers Monday.

His real name is Leroy Gessford, but he seldom hears it from his class mates; it's always "Frenchy."

Now "Frenchy" is only one of those high school boys who has made up his mind not to be mastered but to be master, and the various classes of the school have made him their master cheer leader. He's fairly bubbling over with pep. That's one good thing about "Frenchy." And he's all the while putting pep into cheering.

During the Thursday afternoon Bob Jones meeting in the High School auditorium "Frenchy" went on the stage and lead the 200-odd scholars in cheering and giving class yells.

Billy Sunday never put more pep into his most popular sermon than does "Frenchy" into his cheer leading. In fact he's a wonder.

All of this leads up to the invitation which the High School has accepted to attend the Bob Jones tabernacle service Monday night.

Committees have been appointed from the classes of the different years. Pupils will assemble at the building and march to the tabernacle. Class colors will be flying. Class yells will be given, and perhaps some favorite class song will be sung. The whole affair has been arranged under the idea of having a night for high school scholars, and those of all other schools.

When Bob Jones spoke to the High School classes Thursday afternoon he talked along the same lines as he did to the classes Thursday morning. He supplemented, however, but briefly, and made these pointed statements:

"Deliver me from folks who always have an intent—then never carry out those intentions."

"You must overcome that thing, or that thing will overcome you."

"Your happiness does not depend upon your view, but your view point."

"The secret of a happy life is to have a clear conscience."

Here are some of the class yells which "Frenchy" Gessford will lead at the tabernacle Monday night:

ONE-A-ZIPA
One a zipa, two a zipa! three a zipa! zam!

Four a zipa! five a zipa! don't give rizzle rattle fire cracker!

Zis! Boom! Ba!

"Farewell to Thee," the big Hawaiian Thos H. Ince production with its native Hawaiian quartet in person that appears at the Ceramic Theatre one solid week, commencing Monday, September 13, is one of the most massive productions which has ever appeared here.

One of the big scenes is the court room scene in which a great court room is shown in full operation filled with people. For technical reasons a satisfactory picture could not be made in a real court room because it is not enough light so Mr. Ince had several of the great stages at the big Ince studios cleared, and on this his great force of carpenters built a replica of a court room, with this important difference from the original—there was no roof. This permitted the necessary light for the wonderful photography which has been secured in this scene. When one reflects that the film which is projected onto the screen is no larger than a postage stamp and that it is lean enough that faces can be recognized among the hundreds which through this great court room scene, one will begin to get a conception of the advantage which has to be taken of every technical opportunity.

G. O. P. OUTLINES CAMPAIGN PLANS

Committees Are Appointed and Other Business Transacted At Meeting of Chester Republican Club.

A largely attended meeting of the Chester Republican Club was held at G. O. P. headquarters, corner Fifth street and Carolina avenue, Friday evening, when committees were appointed and other plans laid for the fall campaign in this end of Hancock county.

O. C. Reynolds, president of the club, presided. H. B. Bartley, G. R. Johnston and Elsie Allison were appointed members of a committee to draft up by-laws and a constitution. Another committee on reception and speakers, made up of John Newell, Harry Oyster, E. W. McCullough and W. B. Dalrymple was also selected. Councilman R. B. Rutledge, G. C. Pugh and J. R. Dolby were appointed members of the finance committee.

The question of women voting was also discussed, but in view of the fact that no registration of the women has yet been taken no definite action was deferred. However, a meeting of all Republican women will probably be held within the near future at which time an auxiliary organization to the Chester Republican Club will be formed.

The club also decided to hold meetings every Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock between now and November 2. Flags, posters of candidates and other campaign literature will also be used in the decoration of headquarters.

In an effort to enroll every Republican voter in Chester and the immediate vicinity in the club, a membership committee made up of representatives from all parts of the city and residents of the rural district who vote at the oak Springs park precinct, was selected at this meeting. The personnel of this committee follows:

First Ward: Charles Jackson, W. H. Riley, Howard Miller, I. W. Brown and George Williams.
Second Ward—Charles K. Porter, Carl Dehner, E. S. Bonjour, E. S. Johnston, Earl Milby, E. V. Wehner, Thomas Johnston, C. P. Horrigan, and Clyde Dunn.

Third Ward—Ezlie Allison, Earl Jackson, Joseph Davis, Floyd Hague, Harvey Allison, H. G. Mercer and Frank Gregg.

Fourth Ward—Charles Davis, James Cochran, Homer Lance, Charles A. Singleton, Robert Dunn, Logan Wallace and Cecil Piper.

FALLING OFF IN POPULATION

Decreases In Census Reports from Hookstown, Georgetown and Frankfort.

Hookstown, in Beaver county, has experienced a gradual decrease in population since 1900, according to the official census figures for Beaver county which have just been announced by the census bureau at Washington. The same is true of Frankfort Springs and Georgetown.

The population of Hookstown in 1920 was 191; in 1910 was 250 and in 1900, 259. Frankfort Springs had 95 residents in 1920 as compared to 144 in 1910 and 128 in 1900. Georgetown with 251 in 1920, had 269 in 1910, and 271 in 1900. The population of Shipport in 1920 was 299 while no figures are given for 1910 and 1900.

That farmers are leaving the rural districts and locating in the industrial centers is shown in the population figures of Ohio, Greene and Hancock townships, all in this part of Beaver county. Greene township with 1025 in 1900, 1065 in 1910 had but 691 residents in 1920. Hancock township had a population of 1031 in 1900; 911 in 1910 and only 851 in 1920. Ohio township showed but a small loss, having a population of 962 in 1920 as compared to 984 in 1910.

The steel town of Midland with 1,244 in 1910 had a population of 5,452 in 1920. The population of the entire county by the last census is 111,621, a big increase over 1910 when the census figures were 78,353.

V. A. SCHREIBER FIGURE IN TOLEDO VICE CLEAN-UP

Former East Liverpool Man is Offered Job As 'Free Lance' Policeman Following His Charges That Crime Is Rampant.

V. A. Schreiber, head of the Toledo Anti-Saloon league and former mayor of East Liverpool, has been drawn into the vortex of a city-wide vice cleanup in Toledo as a result of his charges that vice and crime are rampant in Toledo, it was learned here Saturday.

In reply to Schreiber's charges, Chris F. Wall, Toledo safety director, has announced that he is willing to appoint the Anti-Saloon league chief a member of the Toledo police force with the privilege of "free-lancing" as regards enforcement of laws. Wall said he would not require Schreiber to patrol an assigned beat as a regular patrolman, but would grant him the privilege of roaming over the city and nabbing law violators wherever found with the full force of the city back of him.

Schreiber, a former East Liverpool blacksmith, was mayor here a number of years ago. He was active in anti-liquor movements here and took part in several country-wide wet and dry campaigns. He later removed to Toledo where he was made chairman of the Lucas county Anti-Saloon league. It is reported he will be a candidate for mayor of Toledo on the Republican ticket at the next election. He is no relation to Cornell Schreiber, present mayor of Toledo.

TOLEDO, Sept. 11. — Coincident with demands of women's organizations and local anti-saloon league authorities that the town be cleaned of vice and criminals, police today were busy hunting the perpetrators of a series of major crimes that began Thursday morning.

A special vice squad has closed a dozen questionable houses that have been operating for months, while detectives are on the trail of bandits and highwaymen who have been terrorizing residence sections of the city for the past twenty-four hours.

Mrs. W. H. Simmons, 77, is in a serious condition as a result of an attack upon her by highwaymen, who choked her into semi-unconsciousness after robbing her of a diamond lavaliere valued at $10,000. She is the mother of Francis W. Simmons, president and treasurer of the Simmons Boot and Shoe company. The attack occurred on a street in the fashionable residence district.

Relatives have offered a large reward for the capture of the bandit, who escaped.

Morris E. Roach, salesman, is in the hospital from injuries received when two men beat him into insensibility, robbed him and left him half dead on a sidewalk near his home.

Safes were taken from three business places Thursday, carted to the outskirts of the city and blown open for their contents.

Henry Eischen, clerk in a gas filling station, was forced to turn over contents of cash register by armed men. Four hours later the same place was forced open and the safe carried away.

Why Husbands Leave Home

Too Many Babies, Too Many Twins, Poverty, Neglect and Ill-Treatment Are the Queer Reasons Given by Some Married Men---and They Are Inclined to Think That Wives Are Much to Blame for Most Everything on Earth.

Mrs. Marie B. Tiffany, Los Angeles Opera Singer, Whose Husband, Willis, Declares That She Has Spent Only One Day at Home in Three Years. So He Is Suing for a Divorce.

By John Sheldon

SUPPOSE you were a hard-working, highly-respectable, sober-minded married man with the patience of Job and a hankering for a happy home and home comforts. And suppose you had a wife who only found time to spend just one day at home with you in three long, weary years of waiting. What would you do?

Ask Willis R. Tiffany what he did. Or, suppose you were prosperous and had a wife on whom you were prepared to lavish your wealth. And instead of cutting a wide swath in society and the pleasure-loving world, suppose your wife preferred to stay at home playing the part of mother to as many homeless orphans, children of the slums and foundlings as she could entertain at one time in your house. What would you do?

Ask Daniel F. Sullivan what he did. And suppose—but what's the use?

SOIOLOGISTS, humanitarians, learned professors and distinguished preachers, have answered from various angles the familiar old question of why girls leave home. They have told us why wives leave home and why sons leave home.

But no eminent lecturers, so far as we know, have undertaken to explain why husbands leave home. So a few husbands, firmly believing that actions speak louder than words, have been absenting themselves from home of late, leaving the reason for their departure to be explained by subsequent developments.

Take the case of the Daniel F. Sullivans, for instance. They had a splendid home at 826 Kenesaw terrace, Chicago. The only regretful part of their otherwise very happy married life was that no little Sullivans arrived to make their union doubly blessed.

J. W. Clark, of Americus, Ga., Left Home 25 Years Ago Because He Couldn't Stand Poverty. He Is Rich Today and Home Again.

Mrs. Sullivan has a keen love for little children. Her motherly instinct is finely developed. Having no children of her own she began about five years ago to borrow babies and tots of 3 and 4 years from slum nurseries. And on these youngsters she lavished her affections in her own home. The house was theirs and she played mother to them and was as happy as a little girl with a new doll.

In five years Mrs. Sullivan cared for 132 babies. Some she kept with her for two years. She did not adopt them, but looked out for their support and education. Last year she took eight of her tiny charges to Florida for a month's outing.

Objected to Other People's Children

Mr. Sullivan objected to his home being turned into a day and night nursery for other people's children. He objected to various things inseparable from happy childhood days. Man like, he didn't understand why his wife wanted all those squirming, howling, destructive, dirty-faced babies crawling around his home.

He stood it as long as he could and then he simply left home after settling a reasonable allowance on his wife. Now Mrs. Sullivan has got a divorce on the grounds of desertion. She expects to take seven other women's babies to California for a little outing trip next spring.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Clark were dreadfully poor when they lived at Americus, Ga., 25 years ago. They had two children at that time, but living con-duties made it impossible to be home very much. One day in three years was all she could spare.

The one day that Madame Tiffany spent in Los Angeles, where her home was, was Nov. 2, 1919, and she traveled 1000 miles to get there. But even then it was not to engage in domestic pursuits. It was to sing at the Philharmonic concert at Trinity Auditorium.

"It is the same old story," said Mr. Tiffany. "It seems impossible for a woman to have a successful musical career and retain interest in her home. Mrs. Tiffany has been in New York about three years now and during that time she spent one day in Los Angeles. She has worked very hard with her music and deserves the success she has won, but her interests, her whole life and soul are centered in her art, and husbands have a way of disliking to be second, even to a career. The only thing I could do was to apply for divorce on the ground of desertion. I do not think there will be any difficulty in proving my claim."

Two pairs of twins, both arriving on the self same day proved too much for Pas Lujan of Jim Town, a suburb of Rivera, Cal. That is why he left home. At the moment of departure he remarked that there was a limit to all things. First of all, Belle, the family cow, became the mother of two lusty little Jersey calves. Lujan didn't object to that. A calf is worth $40 or $50 today.

But then, about an hour later the hired nurse walked in on poor Mr. Lujan carrying two very red-faced babies which she wanted him to admire. He didn't want twins and said so. Then he left home.

Ignatz Klucyosh says he would rather remain in jail all the balance of his natural life than go home. He lived at Lockport, N. Y.

"I can't live with my wife," he told the judge when Mrs. Klucyosh had him arrested for non-support. He explained that he was a hard-working man, trying to make an honest living and save a little money. What he objected to was a habit his wife had of getting out of bed when he was asleep and going through his pockets.

Early one morning he woke up very suddenly out of a sound sleep and caught Mrs. Klucyosh in the very act of abstracting money from his trousers pocket. The neighbors had him arrested for beating her. That's why he left home.

Some wives don't know when they are well off. Good husbands, like flowers "born to blush unseen," often are unappreciated. Take George Edwards of Pleasantville, N. J., as a case in point. Even his promise, backed by action, to do all the house drudgery, if his wife would only stay home, failed to stop Mrs. Edwards from going to Philadelphia, he asserts in a bill for divorce.

Letting George Do It

Mrs. Edwards wanted to go to Philadelphia to live. Her husband begged her to remain in Pleasantville. He did everything a good, kind husband could be expected to do to induce her to stay home. He says he washed the dishes, washed the clothes, cooked, baked, cleaned windows, scrubbed floors, darned socks, made the beds and attended generally to all the housework to try and keep his wife at home. But she packed up and went to Philadelphia just the same. So he left home too, locked up the house and now he wants a divorce.

It may be refreshing, perhaps, to turn to a totally different kind of married life and hear the opinion of a woman whose husband hasn't left home yet although they have been married more than 50 years.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. McCarthy celebrated the 50th anniversary of their wedding last May. They live on East Thirtieth street, New York city. They have never quarreled, never been separated and are quite happy.

"I suppose," said Mrs. McCarthy, "that I am just an old-fashioned wife, but I do know that we have been very, very happy, and we have had a very happy home."

Then Mrs. McCarthy proceeded to make a statement that no doubt would have drawn down on her head the wrath of many of her sex could they have been there to hear it. She declared that nine times out of ten, with a strong possibility of the tenth time, as well, it is the wife's fault today when married couples cannot agree. When the women stop wanting to be "new" women, or emancipated women, or enfranchised women, then will marriage once more become a success, was her next asseveration.

To make marriage a real success and to keep husbands from leaving home, it is the home and its care that must come first with the wife, Mrs. McCarthy said. Too many girls today know all about eating celestines of pullet a la something or other, or mousseline of kingfish, or imported caviar, and aren't even able themselves to fry an egg.

Don't bother your husband about your own petty affairs during the day, is the advice Mrs. McCarthy gives young wives. Don't weep on his shoulder if the dressmaker has cut two right sleeves for your new blouse, and don't try to make him sympathize with you if you have spoiled the steak. Keep your household troubles to yourself, and let friend husband find peace and quiet when he comes home tired out from the business cares of the day. And then he will never want to leave home.

Ignatz Klucyosh, of Lockport, N. Y., Left Home Because, He Said, His Wife Used to Get up at Night and Go Through His Pockets.

ditions were so hard that Clark couldn't bear to see his family suffer. So he left home to see if his luck would change. At first it didn't. Then he wrote to his wife, suggesting that she might do better for herself and the children if she got a divorce. Mrs. Clark refused to do anything of the kind. Some women are that way. She went out to work for herself and the two children and managed somehow to keep a roof over their heads and the wolf from the door.

Meanwhile Clark drifted down into Oklahoma. Several times he wrote to his wife asking if she had got a divorce yet, but she hadn't.

Too Many Twins for Him.

Then during the recent Oklahoma oil boom Clark's luck turned. He struck it rich and made a fortune practically over night.

Without wasting any time he headed back to Americus, where his wife received him with open arms. During his 25 years' absence his two children died, the oldest daughter having been buried three days before his return.

The case of Mr. and Mrs. Willis R. Tiffany is a most unusual one, although there may be some husbands inclined to say that Mr. Tiffany was to be envied instead of pitied. Mrs. Marie B. Tiffany is a grand opera singer, a member of the Metropolitan Opera Company. Her professional

In five years Mrs. Sullivan cared for 132 babies. Some she kept with her for two years. She did not adopt them, but looked out for their support and education. Last year she took eight of her tiny charges to Florida for a month's outing.

Objected to Other People's Children

Mr. Sullivan objected to his home being turned into a day and night nursery for other people's children. He objected to various things inseparable from happy childhood days. Man like, he didn't understand why his wife wanted all those squirming, howling, destructive, dirty-faced babies crawling around his home.

He stood it as long as he could and then he simply left home after settling a reasonable allowance on his wife. Now Mrs. Sullivan has got a divorce on the grounds of desertion. She expects to take seven other women's babies to California for a little outing trip next spring.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Clark were dreadfully poor when they lived at Americus, Ga., 25 years ago. They had two children at that time, but living con-duties made it impossible to be home very much. One day in three years was all she could spare.

The one day that Madame Tiffany spent in Los Angeles, where her home was, was Nov. 2, 1919, and she traveled 1000 miles to get there. But even then it was not to engage in domestic pursuits. It was to sing at the Philharmonic concert at Trinity Auditorium.

"It is the same old story," said Mr. Tiffany. "It seems impossible for a woman to have a successful musical career and retain interest in her home. Mrs. Tiffany has been in New York about three years now and during that time she spent one day in Los Angeles. She has worked very hard with her music and deserves the success she has won, but her interests, her whole life and soul are centered in her art, and husbands have a way of disliking to be second, even to a career. The only thing I could do was to apply for divorce on the ground of desertion. I do not think there will be any difficulty in proving my claim."

Two pairs of twins, both arriving on the self same day proved too much for Pas Lujan of Jim Town, a suburb of Rivera, Cal. That is why he left home. At the moment of departure he remarked that there was a limit to all things. First of all, Belle, the family cow, became the mother of two lusty little Jersey calves. Lujan didn't object to that. A calf is worth $40 or $50 today.

But then, about an hour later the hired nurse walked in on poor Mr. Lujan carrying two very red-faced babies which she wanted him to admire. He didn't want twins and said so. Then he left home.

Ignatz Klucyosh says he would rather remain in jail all the balance of his natural life than go home. He lived at Lockport, N. Y.

"I can't live with my wife," he told the judge when Mrs. Klucyosh had him arrested for non-support. He explained that he was a hard-working man, trying to make an honest living and save a little money. What he objected to was a habit his wife had of getting out of bed when he was asleep and going through his pockets.

Early one morning he woke up very suddenly out of a sound sleep and caught Mrs. Klucyosh in the very act of abstracting money from his trousers pocket. The neighbors had him arrested for beating her. That's why he left home.

Some wives don't know when they are well off. Good husbands, like flowers "born to blush unseen," often are unappreciated. Take George Edwards of Pleasantville, N. J., as a case in point. Even his promise, backed by action, to do all the house drudgery, if his wife would only stay home, failed to stop Mrs. Edwards from going to Philadelphia, he asserts in a bill for divorce.

Letting George Do It

Mrs. Edwards wanted to go to Philadelphia to live. Her husband begged her to remain in Pleasantville. He did everything a good, kind husband could be expected to do to induce her to stay home. He says he washed the dishes, washed the clothes, cooked, baked, cleaned windows, scrubbed floors, darned socks, made the beds and attended generally to all the housework to try and keep his wife at home. But she packed up and went to Philadelphia just the same. So he left home too, locked up the house and now he wants a divorce.

It may be refreshing, perhaps, to turn to a totally different kind of married life and hear the opinion of a woman whose husband hasn't left home yet although they have been married more than 50 years.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. McCarthy celebrated the 50th anniversary of their wedding last May. They live on East Thirtieth street, New York city. They have never quarreled, never been separated and are quite happy.

"I suppose," said Mrs. McCarthy, "that I am just an old-fashioned wife, but I do know that we have been very, very happy, and we have had a very happy home."

Then Mrs. McCarthy proceeded to make a statement that no doubt would have drawn down on her head the wrath of many of her sex could they have been there to hear it. She declared that nine times out of ten, with a strong possibility of the tenth time, as well, it is the wife's fault today when married couples cannot agree. When the women stop wanting to be "new" women, or emancipated women, or enfranchised women, then will marriage once more become a success, was her next asseveration.

To make marriage a real success and to keep husbands from leaving home, it is the home and its care that must come first with the wife, Mrs. McCarthy said. Too many girls today know all about eating celestines of pullet a la something or other, or mousseline of kingfish, or imported caviar, and aren't even able themselves to fry an egg.

Don't bother your husband about your own petty affairs during the day, is the advice Mrs. McCarthy gives young wives. Don't weep on his shoulder if the dressmaker has cut two right sleeves for your new blouse, and don't try to make him sympathize with you if you have spoiled the steak. Keep your household troubles to yourself, and let friend husband find peace and quiet when he comes home tired out from the business cares of the day. And then he will never want to leave home.

NORTH COUNTY CLUB MAKES FIRST APPEARANCE HERE SUNDAY

BRYAN DOWNEY DECLARED CHAMP

Canton Boxing Commission So Rules Following Wilson's Failure to Appear for Labor Day Bout.

CANTON, Sept. 11.—Bryan Downey, Columbus-Cleveland boxer, is the new middleweight champion of the world.

Records of the boxing commission of Canton, inscribed at a meeting on Wednesday night, are of such content.

The commission here has started a campaign to belittle the title status of one, Johnny Wilson, New York Italian, who, as middleweight monarch, dodged a 12-round bout in Canton Labor Day afternoon with Downey, claiming that he had a broken nose.

In the plan to have Downey recognized as the new champion the Canton commission probably will confer with Matchmaker McKinney of the Canton club regarding an immediate bout here between Downey and one of the foremost contenders. The name of Mike O'Dowd, ex-champion who lost to Wilson on a referee's decision in Boston is mentioned in this connection. Downey is willing to meet O'Dowd, in fact the Buckeye fighter doesn't bar any boxer within eight pounds of his weight.

The Wilson case has not been brought to a close. He and his manager, Marty Killelea of Boston, have returned to the Hub, but there they will hear some of the guns that the Canton commission will touch in the plan to show the entire country just how Wilson dodged the engagement with Downey. Four of the new members of the Canton body took concerted action Wednesday night. They were Dr. L. D. Blanchard, president; John Jacob, vice president and treasurer; and Harry Reeder, and John Skala. W. B. Geschwind, secretary, was not present on account of business reasons, but it is understood that Geschwind will back the act of the commission, making the championship declaration in favor of Downey unanimous.

Wilson's "running out" of the Downey match again sharpens the need of a national boxing commission, one that would be able to deal out punishment in every state of pugilists of Wilson's type. As the situation stands at present, the Canton commission will have to work alone against Wilson. The board here does not have an idea that Wilson will be blacklisted by eastern promoters, but the members declare that circular letters setting forth facts of the scandal here will be sent broadcast in the hope that sporting editors of the country will give due publication.

"So far as Canton is concerned, Bryan Downey is the middleweight champion," said Dr. Blanchard, after Wednesday's meeting. "Downey is entitled to the title. He trained faithfully for the match, trained with a nose worse in condition than Wilson's, but he didn't dodge the issue less than 24 hours before the bout. That is what Wilson did, and that is what the commission intends setting out in a circular letter, containing the official statement of the three doctors who examined Wilson in behalf of the commission, finding him to be in condition to appear. A national boxing commission is the agency through which Wilson should be handled. Not having such an organization, the Canton commission will undertake to handle the Wilson case on its own hook. "We recognize Downey as champion."

Columbus' voyage first showed that magnetic declination was not a constant quantity.

STARS MEET IN FINAL ROUND

Ouimet and Evans Playing Today for the Amateur Golf Championship.

ROSLYN, N. Y., Sept. 11.—Francis Ouimet and Chick Evans, America's greatest rivals met today in the final round for the amateur golf championship title. They worked their way through a field of 250 players to reach the final round.

It was the second time Ouimet and Evans had met in the national championship, Ouimet beating Evans one up on the 36th green, in the second round of the national at Oakmont last year. The westerners who back Evans were not satisfied that that match was decisive and have waited a year for another chance at the Boston golfer.

LEONARD WINS BOUT

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 11.—That Benny Leonard has lost none of his skill was amply demonstrated here last night when he knocked out K. O. Loughlin of Philadelphia in the ninth round. Loughlin put up a game exhibition but was outclassed. Joe Benjamin of San Francisco won his bout with Frank Conifrey with a knockout in the tenth round.

CLEMENCY FAILS TO SAVE MAN FROM DEATH

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Sept. 11.—Executive clemency for Harold C. Newcombe, who committed murder in Pierce County in 1910, failed to save him from a violent death before he could leave the State prison on parole. Charles H. Wilson, a huge negro, serving a sentence of from ten to twenty-five years for a similar charge, who was not sentenced to the noose may yet feel the strands of the rope around his neck.

Newcombe died as a result of a terrific blow from a baseball bat in the hands of Wilson following a dispute over the former's decision while acting as umpire in a baseball game between rival prison teams.

Another Coach for Harvard

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 11.—Harvard's staff of coaches for the gridiron season was augmented when Bob H. Fisher signed up Billy Murray, captain of the 1911 eleven, to be one of his assistants throughout the season.

ELIENSKY PLANS 100 MILE SWIM TO BREAK RECORD

Henry Eliensky, who holds the world record for endurance swimming, has started "light" training in preparation for his attempt to traverse 100 miles in the water this summer. Eliensky plans to start and finish (if there is any) at the Brighton Beach baths, the management of which has drawn Eliensky out of a two-year retirement with a lucrative offer for an effort to shatter his own world's record of sixty-five miles.

HOW ONE WOMAN WAS HELPED

Althea Walker, New River, Pa., writes: "I have been troubled with weak kidneys for two years. I took Foley Kidney Pills and they helped me fine. I rest fine all night and now have no trouble with my kidneys." When the kidneys do not properly do their work, acids and poisons left in the system cause weak and lame back, dizziness, puffiness under eyes, swollen ankles and joints, aches, pains, soreness and rheumatic pains. Foley Kidney Pills have given relief to thousands of men and women. Sold everywhere.

Speaker put almost everyone but the bat boy in the lineup but he could not get a combination that rattled Shawkey and the Yankees won easily, thereby staying in the American League race for another day or so at least.

Ruth's circuit swat yesterday makes it necessary for him to get only two more to reach the half century mark, a record that may stand for all time.

The White Sox have Schang to thank for their victory over the Red Sox, the Boston catcher's bad throw in trying to make a double play, allowing two men to score.

After the Cards had scored three in the first of the 11th the Dodgers staged one of the greatest rallies ever pulled on Ebbetts field and bunched five hits for the necessary four runs to win.

The Pirates beat the Phillies easily and the Tigers surprised themselves by taking two from the Athletics.

PLAN CONSOLIDATION OF DAYTON CAR LINES

DAYTON, Sept. 11.—City officials met today for discussion of the proposed consolidation of the five city car lines, which went under a seven-cent fare a few weeks ago. During a strike several months ago, the city allowed the increased rate with the understanding that all lines were to go under one head. The companies have done nothing on the matter and a question of wage of employees is now up to a commission of three named several weeks ago. The plan of consolidation calls for the abandonment of some tracks and the placing of some on streets not now used.

BIG BEET SUGAR CROP

VALUED AT 13 MILLIONS
GREENEY, Col.—With the beet sugar crop for 1920 estimated to be worth $13,000,000, Weld County, center of Colorado's beet sugar industry, faces one of the most prosperous years in its history.

A total of over 70,000 acres of beets is already under contract with an average yield of twelve tons per acre. The price agreed upon to be paid the growers is $16 per ton.

COLUMBIANA A. C. TO PLAY LOCALS

HIGH GRIDDERS OPEN AT RAYEN

Rayen High School, Youngstown, will open its 1920 season at home with East Liverpool High.

Eighty-six aspirants for the Rayen varsity reported to Coach Harry Gaskeen for the initial practice yesterday. The Youngstown squad is in uniform today going through the fundamentals.

Seven 'R' men have returned to the school this year and together with the new material which is the best Rayen has had in years, gives promise for a highly successful season upon the gridiron.

Manager Craver has secured an unusually hard yet unique schedule this year in the fact that it contains four schools that Rayen has never before met on the gridiron. Dayton Steele undefeated and claimants to the state championship last year is included in the schedule and in all probabilities will prove to be the hardest game of the season.

The 1920 schedule is as follows:

Sept. 25, East Liverpool*
October 2, Wheeling, W. Va.
October 9, Akron Central*
October 16, Ashtabula.
October 23, Canton*
October 30, Massillon*
November 6, Kenmore.
November 13, Dayton Steele.

Visitors Claim Excellent Record of Fifteen Won and Four Lost With Victory Over Salem Club—Jackson is Named New Captain.

The Columbiana A. C., practically an unknown club in this part of the county at least, has been booked by Manager Shel Pyle of the Independents for the regular Sunday attraction here.

The north countians lack prestige here, stated Manager Pyle today, because of the fact that practically all of their games have been with teams from northern Ohio and western Pennsylvania. The Columbiana club management stated yesterday when in communication with officials of the Independents that their record for the season shows a total of 19 games played, 15 of which were victories. They claim a victory over the Salem Mullins club and 3-2 defeat at the hands of the fast McElroy aggregation of Youngstown.

If such is the case they should be able to present a first class attraction here tomorrow afternoon.

Announcement was made today of a change in personnel in the ranks of the officials of the Independents. "Hap" Jackson, pitcher, has been named captain to succeed Clyde Parsons, resigned. Parsons will continue as a member of the club, playing in the outfield. Jackson will have entire charge of the club while on the field.

INGENUITY HELPS BLIND MAN "TO SEE"

Frank Murphy with his ingenious device on Fifth Ave., New York.

It is customary to think of a blind man as led through the streets by a boy or groping along with the aid of a cane. Here is an up-to-date blind pedestrian, perhaps the only person so afflicted who can walk fearlessly and alone among crowds without danger of bumping or stumbling en route. With this device the inventor, Mr. Murphy walks daily among Fifth Avenue crowds at a steady speed.

RIVER NEWS

According to a report from an apparently authentic source, the steamer Queen City of the Louisville and Cincinnati Packet company, is to be placed in the Pittsburgh-New Orleans trade.

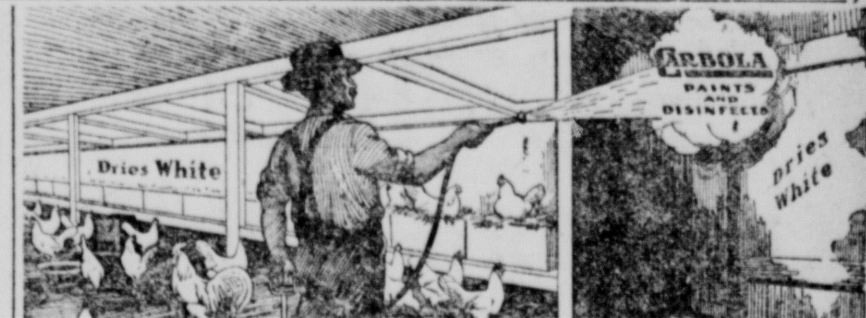

The Queen City is said to be one of the largest and fastest packets afloat on the Ohio river. Its entry into the Pittsburgh-New Orleans trade would meet a long felt want here, it is said. Pottery ware from this city would be shipped to any point on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers without transfer.

The commerce report for the Pittsburgh United States engineering district for the month of August, 1920, is one of the greatest traffic reports ever submitted. The Monongahela river had a total of 2,126,197 tons; Allegheny River, 392,983 tons, and the Ohio, 258,416 tons, all of which were completed in short tons. Of these totals the Monongahela had 1,783,951 tons of coal; 27,794 tons of coke; 743 tons of gasoline; 124,759 tons of gravel; 122,366 tons of sand and 65,894 tons miscellaneous. The Ohio River carried 170,550 tons of coal; 7,300 tons of coke; 894 tons of gasoline; 11,900 tons of gravel; 17,300 tons of sand; 6,106 tons of packet and 44,466 tons of miscellaneous. There was 324,000 gallons of crude oil, taken 137 miles on the Ohio and five miles on the Allegheny river, while 270,000 gallons of refined oil was taken five miles on the Allegheny River and 42 miles on the Monongahela River. At the rate which the Monongahela River totaled last month an aggregate for the year at that rate would bring the traffic statistics of the river to over 25,000,000 tons.

The total estimated for the proposed Ohio River and Lake Erie Canal has been found to be almost four times that of the Monongahela River, and enthusiasts of the canal are using these statistics in an effort to bear the import which the canal would have in lessening railroad freight, congestion and thereby help solve the problem of expediting materials.

Cincinnati's Parcel Post Increase
CINCINNATI, Sept. 11.—The largest parcel post increase in any city of the United States was made by Cincinnati, according to Postal authorities. I. POFF TO FACE MURDER COUNT

Ermino Socci, Struck Over Head With Baseball Bat, Dies.

Frank Poff of Midland, Pa., will be arraigned before Justice Charles McNeil at Midland today, on a murder charge, as the result of the death Friday night of Ermino Socci, aged 52, Midland Jeweler, said to have been caused by a blow over the head sustained during a quarrel at the Poff home in Pennsylvania avenue, Midland, on August 10.

Poff was arrested Thursday night after the East Liverpool hospital authorities notified the Midland police that Socci was in a critical condition. An inquest will be held over the body of Socci Saturday by Coroner Jackson of Beaver.

An examination at the East Liverpool hospital showed that Socci was suffering from a fracture of the skull. Socci was released from the hospital ten days ago, apparently cured. He was again admitted to the institution on Thursday night after he had suffered a relapse.

According to the story told the police, Poff discovered Socci, a boarder at the home, struggling with Mrs. Poff.

FIRST STEP TO INCREASE FIRE FORCE TAKEN

Council Will Seek Statement Of City's Financial Condition.

TO CONSIDER RESOLUTION

Deficiency Bond Probably Will Be Issued to Pay Extra Firemen.

As the first definite step in the enlargement of the city's fire fighting force, city council Monday night will consider a resolution authorizing City Auditor John T. Burns to prepare a financial statement showing that a deficiency exists in the city's funds by reason of the contemplated addition of seven new regular firemen to the fire department, it was announced today.

The statement of Auditor Burns will show that the appropriated funds available for use at the present time would not be sufficient to pay the salaries of the proposed seven new firemen until the first of the year when a new appropriation is drafted.

City council will then determine just what this deficiency in city funds amounts to and will authorize the issuance of deficiency bond to cover the deficit. The sinking fund trustees have already advised city officials that they do not have sufficient funds to purchase the deficiency bond and it is likely that the security will have to be advertised for 30 days and offered for sale on the open market.

A deficiency bond of between $2,000 and $3,000 will be necessary to defray the salary expenses, it is estimated. If the 30-day period for advertising the bond is required the new firemen cannot be added until November 1 and the smaller bond will cover the expenditure. There is a waiting list of ten men eligible for appointment on the fire department and the seven additional men can be placed at work just as soon as funds are in sight for their salaries, it is pointed out.

PLAN REPAIRS AT HOSPITAL

Contract for Reflooring Corridors of Building Is Awarded.

Interior repair work to cost approximately $4,000 will be commenced at once at the East Liverpool City hospital, it was announced at the regular meeting of the board of trustees Friday night.

Contract for the re-flooring of the corridors and passageways in the hospital has been awarded to the Hachmeister-Lind Chemical company, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

A new composition tile flooring will be laid. The work will be commenced within the next two weeks and will be completed within a month or six weeks. The improvement will cost approximately $2,500, it is estimated.

The interior of the Nurses' home will be re-painted throughout, while a number of private rooms in the hospital building will be renovated. This work will cost more than $1,500.

Other improvement work around the building will be considered at the regular bi-monthly meeting of the hospital board of trustees Friday night. Report of the institution for the months of July and August will also be submitted at the same time.

With nearly 400 patients treated and a total of 176 surgical operations performed, the city hospital was comparatively busy during the months of July and August, according to the regular bi-monthly report submitted by Miss Lois Pattison, superintendent, at the regular meeting of the board of trustees Friday night.

Here is the report in summarized form:

July—Patients remaining 49; admitted, male 59; female 68; births, 13 total 133; discharged 121; died 12; total 133; remaining at the end of month 55; major operations 35; minor operations 55.

August—Patients remaining 56; admitted male 70; female 61; births 8; total 195; discharged 120 deaths 7; total 127; remaining at end of month 68; major operations 49; minor operations 46.

American Today Elaine Hammerstein in The Point of View

A smashing story of a modern girls' struggle to elevate her family from enforced poverty to the then old plane of wealth. She took the step that she dreaded—regretted it—and then was made happy.

She thought the Westerner with his rough manners and crude speech was too far removed from her sphere of life to love—until her point of view was changed, and that's the story. It will hold you spell bound with its interest and human appeal.

A Story That Will Make You Love Life—A Story of Youth and Love. Don't Miss It.

"Hidden Dangers"

EPISODE FIVE

"Hands of Horror"

Did you ever see an orange, a banana, an apple or pear to the "shimmy"? Ridiculous to think of, is the answer. But not impossible, say the movies. And the proof that these various fruits may do a little more than hang on trees, is in the fifth episode of the Vitaphone serial "Hidden Dangers."

The scene brings a leavening comedy touch to an episode heavy with thrills and dramatic action. The consternation of the old venter when he sees his stock in trade go off on a rampage is very laughable. This comedy scene could well be lifted and placed into the much-touted screen comedies of today and make them more worthy of the name. The fifth episode will be shown at the American Theatre today. See it here today and every Saturday.

AN EVENT—

in the annals of the photoplay history of this city

The management of this theatre takes pleasure in announcing the appearance of Clara Kimball Young in her second big Equity picture "THE FORBIDDEN WOMAN." 3 days, starting Monday. It is an event for any theatre in the land to announce and exhibit this production, for it presents Miss Young at the height of her brilliant career.

We request our patrons to come as early as possible, so that all may be accommodated, seated promptly and comfortably. We expect capacity and overflow crowds, for the picture warrants such attendance and undoubtedly will have it, coming as it does, direct from its New York run. The story of deals with the life and love secrets of a dazzling Parisian Opera Star at the height of her fame, with wealth, position, and luxuries as her playthings. The story is gorgeously invested, assuring you an evening of deluxe entertainment.
